Hi Colin,

I hope you had an enjoyable summer. As we catch up with neighbors, two topics keep coming up. Rather than continuing to speculate, I figured I'd reach out to you:

Any news or updates on the future of Augustus Schaeffer Park? At most recent counting, we have about 65 kids in our Lynbrook/Roselyn neighborhood. It's a great place to live (my parents even just bought a home eight houses away from us)! Adding playground equipment would be welcomed by all!

Will the work space at Camp Security be completely removed soon? It is quite an eyesore now and will be much safer for us to cross over Locust Grove Road when we don't have to cross at the intersection.

Thanks so much for your time,

Cathy Braun

Hi Colin,

Just a quick bit of anecdotal information if you choose to use it at a future parks meeting:

After I picked Andy up from preschool at noon today we went to Springettsbury Castle Park. We left the park at 1:30. During all but the first and last couple of minutes, we had the entire park to ourselves. One boy was just leaving, and one just came when we were leaving. What a shame--finally a break in the rain and no one was there to play on all that new playground equipment. On the other hand, in our neighborhood, we have at least 2 dozen kids that are being home-schooled or who have parents who stay home with them and can walk them right over to our park. I guarantee that we would have had plenty of kids playing at Augustus Schaeffer Park today!

Still hopeful the park will be revitalized and renovated soon!

Cathy
